

SUMMER INTERNSHIP PLANNING STUDENT

Hemson Consulting is a firm that combines land use planning and municipal finance expertise. Located in downtown Toronto, the firm provides services to a range of public and private sector clients across Canada. We are very pleased to invite a planning student to join our consulting team for a paid full-time summer internship position, starting in May of 2020. We are seeking a planning student with an interest, and ideally some understanding, of municipal finance.

We recognize the importance of professional experience to planning students in complementing formal education and in seeking permanent employment. Many of our consultants benefitted from similar experiences early in their careers. An intern at Hemson can expect to:

- Assist in all areas of the firm's practice areas (demographics; policy development and impact analysis; land needs assessment, strategic planning; municipal finance)
- Work alongside senior consultants as well as recent graduates
- Provide input into all stages of consulting assignments
- Communicate with the firm's consulting partners and clients as required
- Receive fair compensation for hard work
- Enjoy a fast-paced working environment in downtown Toronto

Interns will be provided with work that is challenging and rewarding and will be mentored by a senior consultant. Our goal is to provide an intern with a broad exposure to professional consulting that will serve them well in their career.

We are seeking a student who is enrolled in a Masters program in planning at an Ontario university and who has an interest in developing four skill sets:

- Research and writing
- Policy and spatial analysis, using a range of technical software
- Highly numerate, familiar with statistical methods, and with strong Excel skills
- Written and oral communication

If this is an opportunity that interests you, please review our website www.hemson.com and send your resume and cover letter by Tuesday March 16, 2020 to Stefan Krzeczunowicz at hemson@hemson.com. Please quote "Summer Internship" in the subject line of your application.
